

24 March 2015, Optional Conference

Dealing With Legacy Projects And Multiple Customers By Transforming To Agile

Lajos Tancsik

Former Head of Application Development, 2013-2014

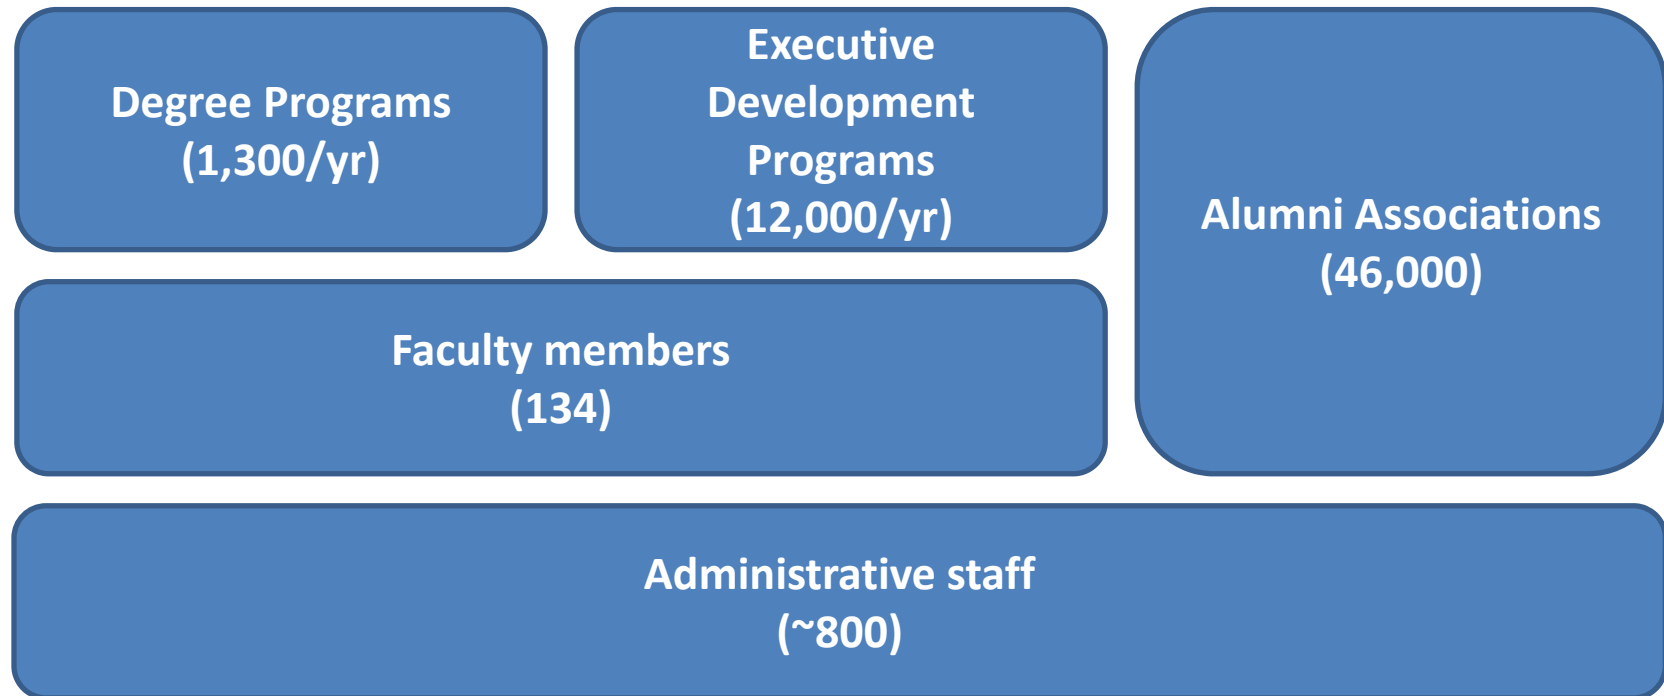

Consultant, 2015

INSEAD Business School

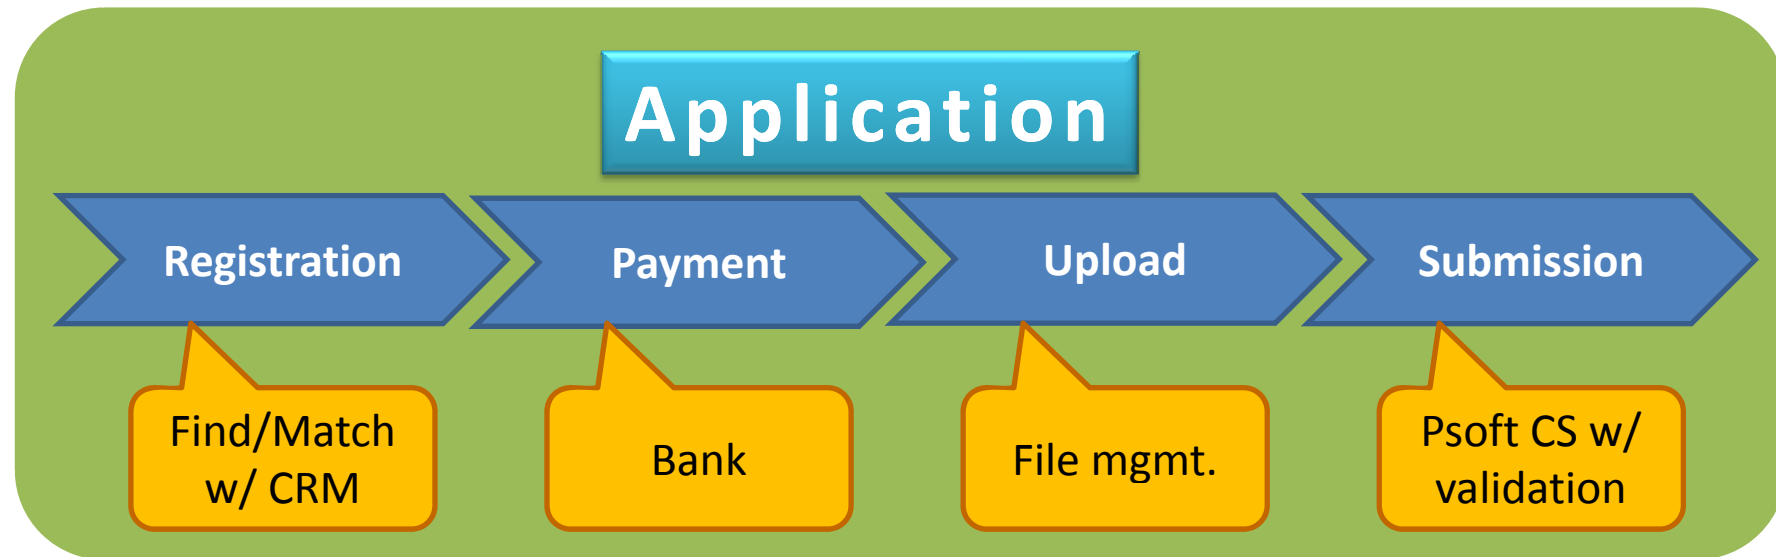

INSEAD is one of the world's leading business schools

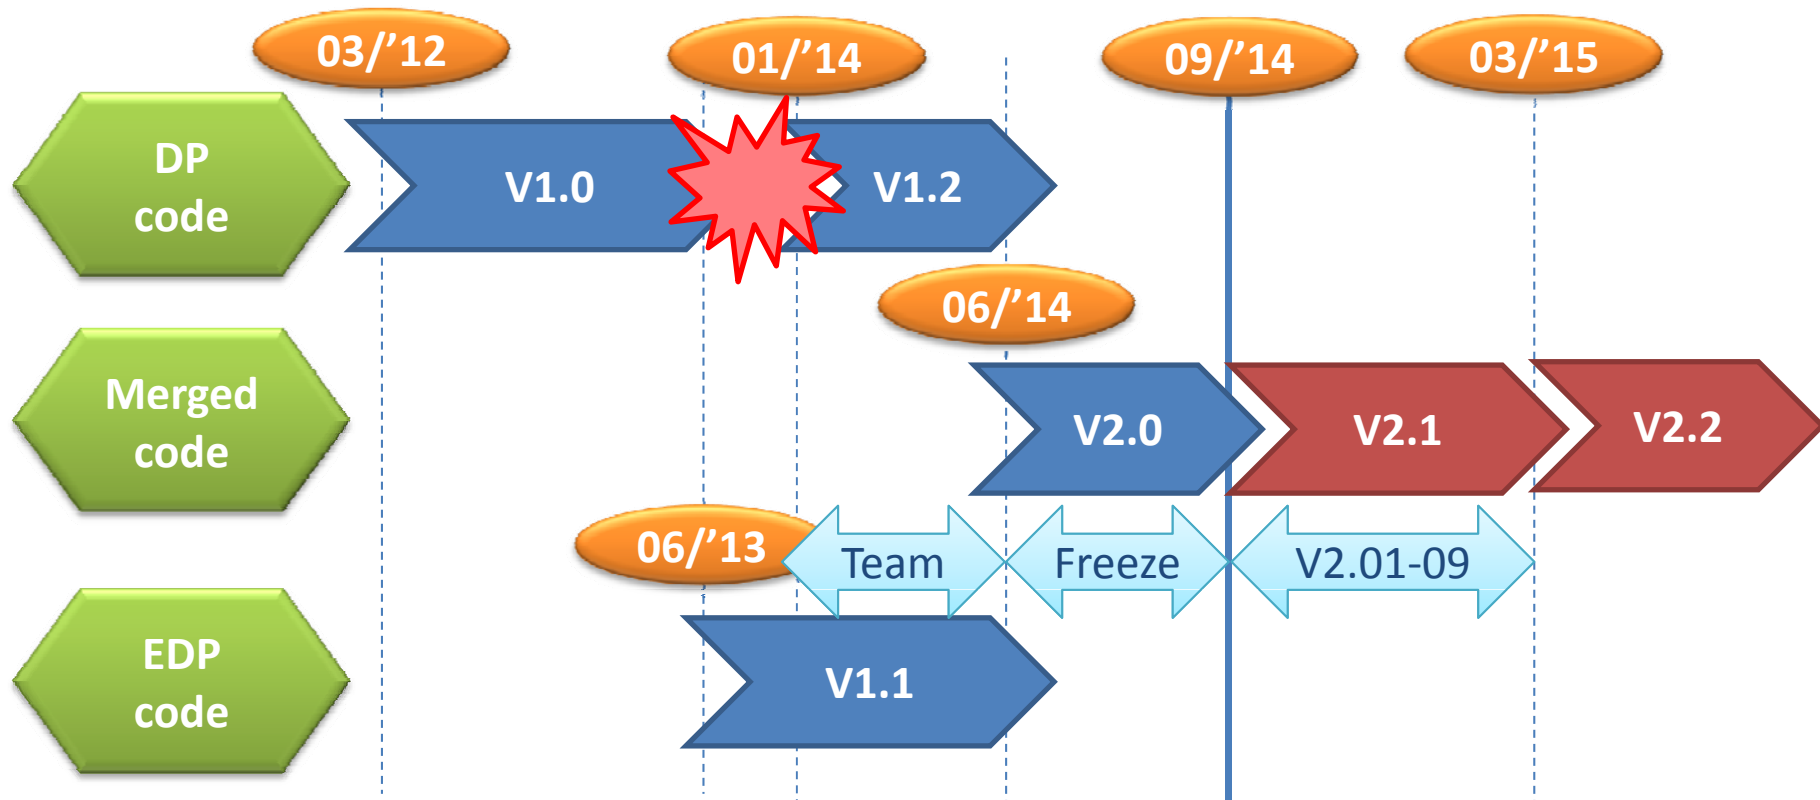

DP and EDP have similar but not the same processes, though they compete for the same central resources

The process of application and admission

Custom development for ,customer facing' apps and OOB PeopleSoft module for admin staff

The story of the project

Agility enables business alignment, high productivity and good quality software

Scrum roles

Key factors for the Development Team:
Cross-functional / dedicated / sit together

Managing two Product Owners

STEERING COMMITTEE:

- Theme roadmap
- Resource split
- Monthly adjustment

BACKLOG:

- Stories flagged
- Actual time spent gathered

COMMUNICATION

- Highly political
- Lot of effort

Possible but needs guidance, extra work and lot of communication

Lessons learnt

PRODUCT OWNER:

- Can be remote -> needs a proxy
- 2 PO's extremely difficult

SCRUM TEAM:

- NO virtual
- YES hamburger

CODE:

Never split the code
-> harder to merge later

Continuous adjustment of organization, process, tools will lead to a success story
